ABOUT THE ALLIANCE

The online professional community that makes up the International Alliance of Clinical and Forensic Toxicologists is driven by a single goal: to make clinical and forensic toxicology accessible to all.

IACFT is a collective of scientists from around the world who serve their local communities as best as they can but who do not always have the time or budget to attend professional meetings in remote parts of the world to present their research or to learn the latest developments in the field.

We strive to build productive relationships and make a positive impact with all of our pursuits informed by comprehensive empirical studies and high-quality data.

 - to promote education for and research in clinical and/or forensic toxicology;
 - to encourage the study, improve the practice, elevate the standards and advance the cause of clinical and/or forensic toxicology;

OUR CONDUCT: Reinforcing our Team Spirit

Our Alliance is dedicated to creating an inclusive environment for everyone, regardless of race, ethnicity, religion, colour, national origin, age, disability (physical or mental), sexual orientation, gender identity, parental status, marital status, and political affiliation as well as gender expression, mental illness, socioeconomic status or background, neuro(a)typicality, or physical appearance.

We're united by IACFT's values, and we celebrate our unique differences. We put forth this code of conduct not because we anticipate bad behaviour, but because we believe in the already exceptional level of respect among the Alliance's members. We believe that articulating our values and accountabilities to one another reinforces that respect and provides us with clear avenues to correct our culture should it ever stray. We commit to enforce and evolve this code as our Alliance grows. Every Member of the Alliance is encouraged to participate in professional scientific discourse, but may not intimidate, shout down, or heckle presenters. Every Member of the Alliance shall treat everyone with professionalism, dignity, and respect. No Member of the Alliance may use their position or personal belief/opinion to bully, abuse, victimise, harass or unlawfully discriminate against others. Harassment is defined as unwanted verbal or non-verbal conduct related to a relevant protected characteristic, which has the purpose or effect of violating an individual's dignity or creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for that individual. Every member of the Alliance is expected to be considerate of other members, and contribute to a collaborative, positive, and healthy environment in which we can all succeed.

Specifically, all Members of the Alliance should always aim to:

- Be supportive of your colleagues, both proactively and responsively
- Be inclusive
- Be collaborative
- Be generous in both giving and accepting feedback
- Be respectful toward all time zones
- Be kind

YOUR ALLIANCE – YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS

This Virtual Meeting is made possible by our distinguished colleagues who donate countless hours of their time and expertise in support of the Alliance.

You , too, can help us soar. Our Alliance is based on the global efforts and activities of our scientific collective. We count on our members actively supporting our activities.

Don't you know where to start?

- Can you volunteer your time and talent to help us design and strengthen our internet presence?
- Can you volunteer to translate scientific abstracts or manuscripts?
- Are you able to talk to your local companies and other potential corporate sponsors about our Alliance and all the benefits it brings for free to scientists around the world?

If you cannot donate your time or talent to support the Alliance, please consider making a donation and taking advantage of this incredible opportunity to lend your support. 100% of your donation goes towards the Alliance's operational costs. It's a great way to contribute to our cause. No donation is too small, and every little bit counts towards paving the path for a better tomorrow.
